HATH HE NO HANDS? Elaine

Sometime in the fall the Spirit dropped a word into my heart saying that He uses the forces of nature as His judgments. I wondered why He told me that, for I was not thinking of His judgments at the time. I certainly have been thinking of them since the recent disaster in Asia! One news broadcast interviewed various religious leaders to hear their views as to what or to whom they attributed this great disaster. None of them had any answers and the general conclusion was a “natural” one—that it was solely due to the shift of the earth’s plates.

I have read books on the miracles God did to help the allies in both World Wars. Invariably, He used the forces of nature to defeat the enemy. No man could stand before these weapons!

I felt “numb” over all that I heard and saw concerning the disaster in Asia and wondered that I had no tears. On January 2nd, the Lord dropped into my heart “For by fire and by his sword will the Lord plead with all flesh: and the slain of the Lord shall be many” Isa. 66:16. This set me to seeking the Lord concerning His judgments. I have been so impressed with the goodness of the nature of God I could hardly relate to a God who would judge nations in such a devastating manner. I needed some understanding and the Lord was faithful to send it and I feel to share it with you.

I looked back to an entry in my prophecy book of April 26/04 where there was an intimation of trouble to come. Most of us have read the child’s story about Chicken Little who was afraid the sky was falling. Since the Spirit wanted to make His words very clear, He spoke to me, “Chicken Little said, “The sky (or world) is falling” and so shall the people of the world feel at all that is coming upon the earth. But My people will know that I am destroying man’s corrupt order to establish My righteous reign. Be encouraged in knowing the truth of My judgments.”

One thing that I have proven through the years is the truth of Isa. 26:9, “...for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness.” If you have “gone on” to know the Lord, you have found that when He judges those things in you that are opposed to His nature, it brings forth the peaceable fruits of righteousness. If this is true on a personal level, it must also be true on a national level--as in the present catastrophe.

Before I share the reports of why the Lord has judged these nations, I want to share a word the Lord spoke to me on Jan. 12/05. I was about to eat my breakfast when a few lines of a song burst forth from my lips: “He rules the world in truth and grace, And makes the nations prove the glory of His righteousness; And wonders of His Love, and wonders of His Love.” I asked Bill, “Where did this song come from? I don’t remember hearing it recently” nor could I think of the name of the song. I sang it loudly with great rejoicing and then I heard the Lord speak, “Am I a God without hands? * Am I unable to speak and to perform My will? Shall My holy Name be blasphemed throughout the earth and I take no notice? Does My creation groan and I hear them not?

“Man has come to the fullness of iniquity and has thumbed his nose at His Creator. (Ezek. 8:17, “...lo, they put the branch to their nose.”) Shall I not judge for these things? Shall I not come forth with a vengeance to destroy all that would revile My righteousness in the earth?

“Yea, My Love encompasses all creation, but I am not only their Maker, I am also the Judge of all the earth. And a Judge must judge unrighteousness lest it overrule in all the earth.

“I am coming to bring a new heavens and a new earth wherein dwelleth righteousness and man’s mouth shall be stopped before Me. I have shaken Myself and arisen to judge the earth, for My people are prepared to go forth and bring forth My nature in the midst of chaos and wickedness. This is My plan and none can prevent it.”*

Psalm 78:65, “Then the Lord awaked as one out of sleep, and like a mighty man that shouteth by reason of wine. And he smote his enemies in the hinder parts: he put them to a perpetual reproach.”

Isa. 45:9, “Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker! Let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth. Shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? Or thy work, He hath no hands?”

This is clearer in the Amplified Bible: “Woe to him who strives with his Maker! A worthless piece of broken pottery among other pieces equally worthless [and yet presuming to strive with his Maker]! Shall the clay say to him who fashioned it, What do you think you are making? or, Your work has no handles?”

In the previous issue we shared how the Lord definitely established the fact that He was the One who sent the tsunami! The island of Rameswaram, west of Sri Lanka, was right in the path of the tsunami. It was also one of the top Hindu worship sites in all India. Yet, in it the Lord had His servant Moses Paulose, a converted Hindu who had served Him since a teenager in spite of much persecution. Moses was told to build a large building for a mission base to train workers to spread the gospel. At 3:30 a.m. the morning before the tsunami hit, an elder had a vision of the angel of death who told him that Rameswaram had been marked for death and destruction. He arose and the people prayed all through the night. Though in the center of the worst damage, the Lord delivered them and they were completely unharmed. This devastation came as no surprise to the Lord! He sent His angel to announce it to His children!

This account reminds me of the night that all of the firstborn of Egypt died and the Israelites were spared by obeying the Lord’s instructions to put the blood of a lamb on the doorposts of their homes. The Egyptians could hardly explain this away as some bad virus that had suddenly attacked them because Moses had warned Pharaoh as to what was going to happen. The Lord said, “For I will pass through the land of Egypt this night, and will smite all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, both man and beast; and against all the gods of Egypt I will execute judgment; I am the Lord.” Exodus 12:12

The remnant company rejoices to know that we have, at last, come to what is known as the Day of the Lord. Yet, in anticipation of the wonderful changes that shall come, we overlook the judgments that the Lord warned would be a part of that day. He tells us, in Zephaniah 2:3, “Seek ye the Lord, all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgments; seek righteousness, seek meekness: it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the Lord’s anger.” And Joel warns: “Alas for the day! For the day of the Lord is at hand, and as a destruction from the Almighty shall it come.” Joel 1:15.

Paurault’s newsletter said. “The church is going to experience God performing what is in His plan, fulfilling His prophetic word. So will the nations of the earth see His hand and learn that He alone is God. In other words, the Father God is in control and these moves will be His in this year of 2005. It has just begun worldwide.

“Joshua admonished Israel to choose whom they were going to serve—the pagan gods or the living God! We had a prophetic word last year stating, “There would be changes before the end of the year and going into the New Year. Great changes would take place, along with judgment on the way.” As a people of God we know much about the blessings of God, but little about His judgments. We cringe at the thought of judgment and choose to look away and not want to think about it. However, it is the Lord’s doing and He is in the midst of all of it.

“The judgment on these Asian nations was due mostly because of their denial of the Living God which expressed itself in rejection of His glory, His Name, His Christ and His Spirit. This expressed itself in the persecution of believers in these countries. In Bangladesh, believers were beaten and forced from their homes; in India, pastors and priests were beaten and nuns raped. In Indonesia, militants orchestrated an Islamic jihad against Christians resulting in 8,000 people being killed and 600 churches destroyed. In Maldives, all Christian foreigners were expelled from the country in 1998. In Somalia, fellowship among believers is dangerous, since persecution is strong in many parts of the country. In Sri Lanka, dozens of churches, pastors and evangelists were attacked by militant Buddhists in 2003 and 2004.

“Quoting from ‘The Book of Revelation, A Prophetic Word to the Church’ by John L. Paurault: “The reason for judgments, declared in the Book of Revelation, is sin. Judgment brings about cleansing and divine order, and it is the pleading voice of God to repent. “For by fire and by his sword will the Lord plead with all flesh and the slain of the Lord shall be many” Isa. 66:16. Why the pleading with fire and sword? Verse four answers why: “Because when I called, none did answer; when I spoke, they did not hear: but they did evil before mine eyes, and chose that in which I delighted not.” Consider that God pleads first with word; the last resort is judgment with fire and sword.

“The Lord is always seeking a change of mind concerning sin and disobedience, even before and after the judgment. The church throughout the Book of Revelation can view God’s wrath on worldwide sin as it was in the days of Noah. Sin is greater now than it was in that day in one aspect, for God has given more light and understanding about His mind, purpose and provision for holiness. The earth has experienced a build-up of defilement and rebellion from century to century and the end of it is on the horizon. The understanding that God judges is something that is needed in the church. Rev.16:5,7 reveals something about God’s nature. These verses tell us that His judgments are true and righteous. What is man to criticize God? He is not qualified to open his mouth in his blindness and ignorance. The angel in verse 5 says that God is righteous because He has judged the beast and his worshippers. If God does not judge sin this would declare that He is not righteous. One of the ways in which the wicked world knows there is a God is declared in Psa. 9:16-17, ‘The Lord is known by the judgment he executed; the wicked is snared in the work of his own hands.’ See also Isa. 5:16; 54:8; Micah 3:4.

“Judgment cannot take place apart from power and love. This reveals things about God. It takes power to judge. Look in Genesis at God’s power to flood the earth, then look at all the judgments from that point to Revelation, which speaks of many end-time judgments. It shows power beyond our comprehension. It takes love to judge. Why? It is because the only radical judgment of sin is pure love. Sin will not judge itself. Look at the love that judged sin in the death of God’s only begotten Son whom He loved. Yet He commissioned Him to die while loving Him who did no sin that He may judge sin in Him. Love must judge sin or else everything else is lost. Love must cut off the corruption and contamination or there shall be death with no recovery. Only love seeks purity and what it takes to have it. You don’t see Satan judging sin, do you?” Unquote. (He will tell you sin is an illusion! E.C.)

Can we now believe that the Lord God is rising up to begin to judge the nations of the world? It is an awesome place to fall into the hands of the living God. He is God and He will have no other gods before Him. God has been speaking to us for years and warning us as a nation. Can we perceive this? It is not the devil doing this but the Almighty God’s judgment beginning to fall on heathens who worship idols and false gods just as they did in the Old Testament and for centuries thereafter having other gods, all of which are worthless.

What did the One and only God do? He destroyed them all with their idols. He will surely purge and cleanse the earth again. He did it in the flood; He did it in Sodom and Gomorrah and He will do it again at the coming of His dear Son, Jesus. He always has His own people in the midst of nations of darkness, but know He is in control and always will be.

We want to quote also from an article called “Anguish in the Heart of God” by Francis Frangipane: “While the tragedy of the Asian tsunami has drawn our hearts to its widespread death and apocalyptic devastation, there has been another tragedy repeatedly striking this same region for decades. Yet this ongoing disaster has been almost completely ignored. What is the horror of which I write? This part of the world is infamous because of the trafficking of slavery, especially of women and children.

“The Polaris Project explains: ‘Trafficking in persons, also known as human trafficking, is the modern practice of slavery. It is the third largest criminal industry in the world today, after arms and drug dealing, and is the fastest growing.’”

“Quoting information from the Salvation Army: “Almost 200,000 Nepali girls, many under 14, are sexual slaves in India. Experts estimate that 10,000 children between 6 and 14 are virtually enslaved in brothels in Sri Lanka. Around 15,000 children were sold into sexual slavery in Cambodia between 1991-97. Asian women are sold to North American brothels for $16,000 each. The Thai Government reports that 60,000 children are sold into prostitution—independent nongovernmental organization (NGO) experts estimate the figure to be closer to 800,000.

“In his swearing-in speech in March, 2003, John R. Miller, Senior Advisor to the Secretary of State and Director of the office to Monitor and Combat Trafficking in Persons, said: “The dimensions of the modern day slavery challenge that we face are vast. There are not thousands or hundreds of thousands, but over a million people who are trafficked and enslaved every single year. That’s right—over a million every single year.””

(Our local newspaper told of a grandfather in Sri Lanka who sold his two grandchildren aged 9 and 7 because they had lost their mother. An aid worker became suspicious and discovered what had been done and recovered the children and restored them to their father. What an evil! Elaine)

“I could go on. Picture your child kidnapped and sold into a sex ring. This is the evil of this horror. A great many of those kidnapped and sold into slavery come from the nations hit by the tsunami. Multiply your outrage by a million women and children a year and we can get a glimpse of the anguish in the heart of God.” Unquote.

David Weber has written, “Are You ready for the Flood?” I will share a few of his thoughts. “Just as in the days of Noah, many people will be caught unawares by the real fiery flood of God’s Spirit, and will thus be swept away in the divine judgments. The remnant (of whom Noah is a type) is trying to warn believers and nonbelievers of the impending judgments, but again, just as in Noah’s day, most do not care to listen.

“In the ark’s design is revealed God’s plan of deliverance for all of His creation. This ark that must now be built will not be built to float upon a watery flood of God’s judgment. This is an ark of faith designed to rise above and float upon the fiery sea of purgations that is coming to rid the world of all fleshly rebellion and carnality. This flood is not designed to destroy all physical flesh as in Noah’s day (although many could lose their lives in the judgments); this flood is a benevolent and remedial flood of Holy fire that is designed to destroy the fleshly and rebellious carnal nature within men!

“Noah’s Ark was 300 cubits long—300 speaks of complete and divine deliverance. The height, 30 cubits, speaks of maturity, of coming into full stature and authority. The width of 50 cubits represents the Holy Ghost anointing and the prophetic ministry. When you put this together you should see that God has a plan of divine deliverance for those who have willfully submitted to His chastening hand so that they will not have to endure the trials, tribulation and fiery judgments that will come on the Day of Judgment. These will be brought to a place of maturity in Christ and given great authority in the realm of the Spirit. This ark of mature, anointed, fully sanctified vessels will be used by God in His divine plan to deliver all of His creation in the coming age from its slavery to corruption. These vessels will be used by God to lead creation itself into the freedom of the glory of the children of God (Rom. 8:19-21)” (unquote)

Pastor Yan Tuck Yoong of Singapore shared: “I do agree with you that the tsunami was a judgment that was let loose by the Lord. One of the things it has accomplished is a greater openness to the gospel. Many Christian teams are now in the devastated areas sowing the seeds of love and the Word of God. I’ve just returned from a glorious time in India. One of the speakers was a 25-year-old man who preached like he had been preaching for 50 years! A new generation emerges. The sons of the kingdom are being manifested!” (unquote).

In conclusion, I want to tell you about The Vision of Five Angels as shown to Rev. Samuel Doctorian on the Island of Patmos on May 5/98. I have had this vision in my files for some time but hoped it was not true because of all the devastation of which it spoke. But now that the Asian disaster has happened, I have to take a fresh look at what the angels spoke. Five people on the same day sent this writing to us or phoned us about it recently. The angels gave messages concerning the five continents of the world, and the first one was to Asia! I want you to read this but I don’t plan to print it out. If you have a computer you could find it at the following Web Address. (If you don’t have Email we could get you a copy)

The Web Site is: www.biblelandmission.org. After the Web page has come up, click on Vision of Five Angels. If you get a blank page after doing that, click on the Web address at the very bottom of the page. Presto! The picture appears!

THE OLD ORDER CHANGETH

Bill Cook

As we look out on the rugged appearance of the road map for 2005 we think of the Iraq situation . Every time we listen to the world news, Iraq is reviewed, and little wonder, for the whole world is involved.

We were sent a prophecy that had been written in 1933 which stated that in 70 years time there would be war in ancient Babylon (Iraq) and right on time (2003) American forces moved into Iraq. Hooray for our side! Hooray for President Bush! But we were not seeing the whole picture.

You see, in a sense, President Bush is our president too on situations this serious.. I would say that in Western Canada there is much love for the president as he has proven that he is able to make a stand for the truth which our prime minister has failed to do. Furthermore, on his last visit to the Maritimes, the president good naturedly said, “We are family” and humorously mentioned that “There is some difficulty in living beside the elephant.” We loved him on both counts.

Lately I heard both Henry Kissinger and Newt Gingrich discuss the world situation—simply fascinating!—knowledgeable boys, those two: but no Urim and Thummim (Deut.33:8).

In spite of all, for all matters concerned, and concerning all that matters, we can delete all political talk with—“Where is the man with the ephod?” 1 Sam.30:7 This used to be the premise for wars; they must needs check with God Almighty before they were free to “go up” to war.

In the instance above, from the message received from the Lord, King David and his men recovered all that the Amalekites had stolen from them.

What do you think?—too early to think on such ideals?—not really! We have been in the dispensation of Jesus Christ for 2000 years—and are now looking for the special Millennial of Jesus Christ. We must always be cognizant of the fact that the visible ephod of King David’s day has now become the invisible Spirit of God within us, praise His Name!

On that basis I would like to quote from one brother who received mighty prophecies while on the isle of Patmos as did a predecessor, John the Beloved, 2000 years before.

As John’s prophecies have had a mighty influence during the past age and continue to do so, I believe Samuel’s words of God will be of untold worth to cause us to accept the dire changeover from the past age to the New Day. I find it rather difficult to say this in passing, for we all know how painful these changes can be.

“The old order changeth
Lending place to new.”

In the vision of Samuel Doctorian, five angels visited him, each with a prophecy for a different continent. As the Middle East is on most everyone’s mind these days, I will relay that particular prophecy to you.

“Second Angel : The second angel had a sickle in his hand. I heard him say, ”Harvest time has come in Israel and all the countries all the way to Iran, all of Turkey and the Arab countries. Multitudes that have refused Me, refused My message of love shall hate each other, shall kill one another, shall be destroyed”. I saw the angel raise the sickle and come down on all the Middle East countries.

“In a few seconds, I saw the whole of Iran, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Turkey, Georgia, Iraq, Syria, Jordan, Lebanon, Israel, and all of Asia Minor full of blood. I saw blood all over these countries. I saw fire and nuclear weapons used in many of these countries. Smoke was rising from everywhere. Sudden destruction will come and men will destroy one another. I heard, “Israel, oh Israel, the great judgment has come.”

“The angel said. ‘The chosen, the church, the remnant shall be purified. The Spirit of God shall prepare the children of God.’ I saw fires and smoke rising to heaven. The angel said, “This is the final judgment. My church shall be purified, protected and ready for the final day. Men will die from thirst. Water shall be scarce all over the Middle East. Rivers shall run dry. Men shall fight for water in the Middle East countries.’ I saw the United Nations broken to pieces because of the crisis in the Middle East. There shall be no more United Nations.

“The angel with the sickle shall reap the harvest.”

THE BLOOD COVENANT

Part 12

Elaine Cook

Historically, man’s covenants usually last for eight generations, but the love covenant of Jesus Christ endures for a thousand generations! God spoke through many pictures, but since our culture is far removed from the culture of Jesus’ day, we don’t understand them. We need to know the provisions of the covenant we have with Him.

An immigrant to the U.S. had only enough money to pay his fare, so he had to forego the luscious buffet meals that were served on the boat. He lived on what scraps he could find, and often went to bed hungry. Arriving at Ellis Island, a worker asked him how he enjoyed the trip. He said it was fine, except he couldn’t afford to buy any of those lovely meals they served.

The worker was amazed, “Didn’t you know that all your meals were included in your ticket?” The immigrant suffered lack when full provision had been made for him! We often suffer, not knowing the provisions made for us in the Blood Covenant. Jesus is still entreating like David when he searched for a remnant of Jonathan’s family.

“Is there anybody I can bless? Is there any seed of Jonathan who will receive My love?”

We need to have the image of the covenant on the inside, so we will have the authority to enforce it!

One reason that men have entered into covenant with each other is for protection. Stanley, a newspaper reporter, went to Africa to search for David Livingstone, a missionary who had gone missing, some years ago. Stanley brought with him goods to trade as he made his way throughout the country. He soon found that his goods were constantly being stolen from him. Finally, an African man suggested he should make a Blood Covenant with this certain powerful chief. Stanley asked, “What would be the purpose of that?”

The man answered, “If you do that, you’ll have the authority of the chief and wherever you go, people will honor and respect that because they respect the chief.” When Stanley found out what he would have to do, he decided against it. But, several months later, after continually being robbed of his goods, he felt he had no choice but to “mingle bloods” with the chief.

Stanley kept a goat with him because he had a stomach ulcer and the milk soothed his stomach. He and the chief performed the covenant up to the part of exchanging gifts. The chief said, through the interpreter, “I want the goat!”

That was Stanley’s most precious possession at the time. He asked, “What do I get in return?”

“Oh, you get the chief’s spear.” It was seven feet tall and was fully wrapped in copper wire.

Stanley acknowledged, “It’s an impressive spear, but what am I going to do when my stomach hurts?” It was too late to back down, so he reluctantly gave up the goat. He had no idea there was power and authority in that spear far beyond what he could imagine. That spear represented the authority of the chief! That spear was the key that unlocked all of Africa to him. He could go anywhere and plant his spear in the ground and the people would know that this chief and all his warriors were behind Stanley, at his beck and call. They would think twice about stealing from him or hindering him in any way. They respected him because of the authority he had.

We have that kind of authority in God because of the Blood Covenant we have with Him. A sister in the Lord told me she had to visit a lawyer whose office was in the seamy side of the city. As she walked along the sidewalk, an evil-looking man approached, learing at her. Quickly she called upon the Lord for help, and right before her eyes she saw the man pinned to the wall of a store building by unseen hands. He couldn’t move and she easily passed by without being harmed. She had called on her covenant partner for protection and He was right there! I’ve heard of people in desperate situations who have had time to call out just His name, and deliverance came! Glory!

One of the most spectacular records of deliverance through faith in the Lord’s Word happened in World War I. For four long years, in front line warfare, the British regiment commanded by Colonel Whittlesey had not one casualty. They did not lose a single man! There was only one explanation for such an incredible record.

Daily during those dangerous times, every officer and every enlisted man in the regiment affirmed his faith in God’s protection by repeating the Ninety-first Psalm. Each man carried a complete copy of the psalm and either read it or recited it from memory daily. Considering the casualty totals experienced by other regiments, the chances that an entire regiment could go through such front-line battles without a single casualty were astronomical!

Magazines who published the story point out that, as hard as it might be for some people to believe that the bullets and shells aimed at the men of this regiment were supernaturally deflected, it was harder still to believe that coincidence could have sent that many bullets astray!

A PATTERN OF SONSHIP Elaine

Can you imagine that all the time Rees Howells was in these intense trials, he was working hard daily down in the coal mine? Imagine also what an impact his Spirit-led life had on the men in the mine. They would be careful never to swear in his presence. One young miner even became his devoted co-worker and prayer-partner.

Rees’ favorite place to pray was at Black Mountain. One day the Lord spoke to him there, “For seven hours a day you are earning two shillings an hour. Would you like to give these seven hours a day to work for Me?” He added one condition: “Will you give Me your word that you won’t look to another person to sustain you? If you will, lift your hand and repeat: “I shall not take from a thread to a shoe lachet from any person, unless the Lord tells me.”

He was being required to make the same stand that Abraham did when he refused to receive the spoils of war lest men should say his prosperity came from natural sources. His response to God was, "You are able to keep me better than that mining company."

He had been out of active ministry for so long that people would not be led to give offerings to him. And, the Lord insisted that he pay for his meals at home so his brothers could not complain that they were supporting him. As usual, it created pain in his dear mother's heart. He insisted he would return to lodgings again if he couldn't pay for his food at home.

What did the Lord do then? Quite an unexpected thing! He gave His son a month's holiday in which he could worship his Beloved as often as he desired. Our Lord is not a hard taskmaster! He loves to reward His obedient children.

It's a "given" that when the Lord introduces one of His sons to a new level of consecration and obedience, the enemy always steps in to try to deter him from that higher path (this being allowed of the Lord to prove him!) When Rees left his job and started a life with the Lord as his Employer and Master, he had but one penny in his pocket. As the month went by, his enemy would remind him that nothing had yet been sent to him. The Lord settled his protests by telling Rees, "You don't need one penny until the day you pay your mother."

On the last day of the month came his test of this new life of faith. His father said, "The manager of the mine told me to tell you that you can have your old job back any time you want it."

Brother Howells would have none of it and maintained his stand that he had never doubted that his earthly employer would pay him on Saturday night. Why should he now doubt his faithful Saviour? He had said, "The laborer is worthy of his hire." Would He not care for His own?

As they were still speaking, the postman came with a letter from his friend Mr. Gosset who offered him a position in the London City Mission at a salary of 100 pounds a year (a generous sum in those days). The letter closed with the words, "Those who preach the gospel should live of the gospel." Rees agreed and added, "And those who preach faith should live by faith!"

The victory was won and his father broke out laughing. Within half an hour the Lord had sent the deliverance he needed!

In July/04 the Spirit spoke a word to me in which He made reference to Rees Howells, so I thought I would share it here. "Know of a surety that I am dealing in your life as stringently as I did in the life of My son, Rees Howells. Many of My children have marveled at what I brought him through to make him a vessel, fully yielded unto his God.

"Think not that this kind of training was but for one man, in that day. Nay, it is for every generation of called-out ones, for verily, the strength of the flesh is a formidable enemy to the Spirit and must be put down by trusting in the power of My Spirit. Expect that the "finishing-off" processings shall be those that cut off every dependence upon the strength of man that My chosen would lean upon Me alone. Such is the nature of the reversal of the curse brought upon the race through Adam. This testing is now what is facing My people as I wean them from their many dependencies upon the arm of flesh."

THE BRETHREN SHARE

1. Singapore Trip: Bill and I have been invited to minister at an independent Pentecostal church in Singapore. Friends from Hawaii are going to accompany us. There are open hearts there so we are excited about going! The time frame is the latter part of March and the first week of April.

2. Readers with Computers: We would like to encourage those with computers to go on our E-zine list to receive our newsletter. When you locate it on our Web Site that means we don't have to pay for printing and postage. We send out a notice when it has been posted. That frees up more funds to send to those who cannot help.

3. Free Booklet: Jim Meletiou has a 28-page booklet called "The Christian City" that he is offering free of charge. You may write to him at 4912 Lancer Drive, Knoxville, TN 37921-3014 or E-mail him at: jmeletiou@bellsouth.net.
