THE SONG OF THE BRIDE Part 46 Elaine Song of Solomon 7:1 “How beautiful are thy feet with shoes, O prince’s daughter!”

Now we are given the words of this victory-dance song (7:-1-5). The daughters of Jerusalem tell of the bride’s preparation for the work of God by recounting her life and way. Every step she takes is beautiful in the eyes of those who behold her. There are no inconsistencies in her life – no wavering or sliding back. She has put on the Truth of the gospel so perfectly that her feet are covered, and her steps are firm. These shoes of the preparation of the gospel of peace having living power in them to hold our feet from slipping, or getting out of the path. We need to refuse all slipshod footwear of error. We need to refuse to have our feet so thinly clad with Truth that every sharp rock pierces our feet and every pebble will turn them out of the way.

In addressing her as “O prince’s daughter” there is a recognition of her descent from nobility and of her birth from a royal line (even Christ’s lineage, the line of Judah who are chosen to rule!) We must set our faces to know the Truth, and to settle for nothing less. We do not follow a man who claims to have “the latest truth.” Our truth comes from living and walking with Him Who is the Truth! No one judges our knowledge of the bible by our testimony. The gospel must be working out in our lives, and manifested in our daily walk. God is faithful to lead us step by step, affording us opportunities to appropriate the power in the gospel, and to have our faith perfected. With every test, our feet are covered more perfectly and securely.

7:1b, “Thy rounded thighs are like jewels, the work of the hands of a skillful workman.” We must bear in mind that this is spoken of the company of virgins who make up the bride. The bride is always pictured as feminine, but she is composed of many virgins (both male and female) who have not been defiled with man’s traditions and heresies. The Spirit, through the prophetess

Jane Leade, spoke of a Virgin Church that would arise at the end of the Church Age.

Like Jacob of old, whose name was changed when his nature was changed, this Virgin Church has been so weakened in the way, so dealt with, so chastened and trained, that they can do nothing of themselves. Their collective “thigh”, the strongest muscle of the body, has been put out of joint by the Hand of the Lord. Now they are no longer strong in self. In themselves, they limp. The secret of their strength is that they must have the presence and direction of their heavenly Ark. They realize they cannot live outside the presence of He Who is their life. It is no wonder that their subdued strength and will is compared to jewels. The Lord takes the credit for their beauty, for it came about through “the hands of a skillful Workman.” He alone has subdued the strength of self and caused us to cling to His strength!

7:2a “Thy navel is like a round goblet, which wanteth not liquor.” The liquor is also referred to as mixed wine and it points to the Blood of Jesus. The body, or the navel, is compared to a goblet filled to overflowing with red wine. This shows us the figure of that which fastens the girdle together. This is a description of the ruby set clasp that holds the girdle together, and makes it immovable. The wine of the ruby clasp symbolizes the new Wine of the kingdom. Through the shed blood of Jesus Christ, the bride can put on the girdle of the Truth of God, which binds the loins so that our steps are held firm.

We can gird our walk with human goodness, or with man’s theories. We can wrap around us the dying fig leaves of man’s efforts and strength. Or we can fasten it with the clasp of human resolutions. Then again, some are girding themselves with New Age doctrines whereby they may be their own god. But, know this – at the first attack of the enemy, at the first stress of passing some hard obstacle, the girdle will give way and the clasp will be shattered, leaving us defeated, naked, and undone. Every Truth of God operating in our life is like a jewel. The Holy Spirit, the skillful Workman, leads us into all Truth until these jewels of God's Word are put on, one by one. They are fastened together by daily taking up our cross and following Christ, ever keeping in the place of death. As the bride lives out the gospel daily, the full goblet that Christ has filled for her is now brought to others. As they behold her girdle of Truth and the blood red clasp that holds it together, and witness the real gospel being lived out, they also long to partake of this gospel and to be thus adorned.

FROM MY PRAYER TIMES Elaine

1. My Mail: I know you would have rejoiced at the privilege of reading my mail since I have been receiving confirming letters from the Body of Christ who witness that we are coming into the Feast of Tabernacles. Because the Lord has made this real to you, I feel free to share with you the present dealings of the Lord with us here. We never know what to expect when the three of us wait upon the Lord. He said we were entering a new classroom for "post-graduate studies." He is going to teach us, for a time, how to walk in His new ways.

2. Cleansing Isaac's Wells: The lessons have been quite diverse. One day, while resting, the Spirit spoke to my heart that He was now cleansing us of false concepts concerning His nature. It was so real that for many years He has been dealing with our self-life, and now He is dealing with our thoughts about Him!

He dropped this thought into my heart: "I am cleansing Isaac's wells from what the Philistines have put in there of their own wisdom and carnal thinking." Philistines typify worldly knowledge which always tries to "muddy" the waters of truth which men of God have digged. Isaac is not known for mighty exploits, but he is a wonderful example of one who was able to find living waters wherever he went. The Philistines always strove over these waters and threw dirt in them, but Isaac was always able to find more water! Oh, that we might rejoice that our Father has opened up to us wells of living water that are always flowing!

It seems, though, that our Father must cleanse the dirt out of our wells and remove the untrue thoughts of the nature of our Father's heart. Like the elder son who was angry because he felt the prodigal son did not deserve his father's blessings, the Philistines have told us that he surely deserves to go to hell and be punished everlastingly. They hold no forgiveness for him! They know not the nature of the Father who was yearning for his wayward son and watching longingly for him while as yet he was a long ways off. And, when he came to his senses and returned to his father, his father treated him like a prince and this is what the elder brother couldn't stand.

This attitude is part of the dirt that those of carnal thinking and interpretation of the scriptures have put in our "wells" and of which we must be cleansed.

3. Sharing with Others: A brother requested that I share more on "the garment of accommodation." When I looked to the Lord, I heard: "They have to see My feet first before they hear My mouth!"

Put very simply, that means that we need to show some love, caring, compassion, perhaps help, to a person before we lay the claims of the gospel upon them. We need to demonstrate our faith and love in a very genuine, practical way before we can expect them to listen to the words of our mouths about the Lord!

4. Holy Communion: A reader asked me about taking holy communion. One friend told her, "When we read God's Word, we are partaking of Him, so we don't need to partake of bread and wine." Another friend said she took it and believed she was healed.

My answer, after I prayed, was: "The communion meal is a sign that the covenant has been made and is in full effect. The emblems of the meal cannot heal anyone, but faith in My covenant, even the New Covenant made by the shedding of the Blood of the Lamb of God, can heal the believing one. It is a looking to that which I have done for you that brings a realization of My offering for you. We partake of His spiritual meat and drink in the fulfillment of the New Covenant of which the Last Supper spoke.

5. The Spoken Word: The Lord dropped this into my heart, from I Kings 17:1: "And Elijah said unto Ahab, As the Lord God of Israel liveth, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to My word." I knew that the Lord was saying that personally to His called-out ones who have given Him His place as King in their lives. They will order their lives by His Word through their lips!

6. That Same Love: I was singing “At the Cross” and couldn’t stop crying. Then, I heard, echoing in my spirit, these words: “Take the world, but give me Jesus!” I believe it is from a song, but I don’t know it.

Then I heard the Spirit say: “I have broken your heart with love for Me, My love, so that you might love others with that same Love wherewith I have loved you. How I have longed for a people—not only to know My heart, but to share it—to feel all the Love and compassion that I feel for My creation. As My sons understand more fully that I have given them the heathen for their inheritance, they will bestir themselves to love more perfectly with a Love that can rise above every man’s sin and see no man as an “impossible” sinner. My sacrifice will loom so great in their eyes that they will know that it is truly sufficient for all creation. Weep for joy that it is so!”

7. The Power of Purity: The Lord reminded me of the scene He had shown me of Jesus riding into Jerusalem on an ass and how it typified that new age that was coming in which His Spirit would ride upon our carnal, beastly nature to subdue it.

He is showing me now that the time for the white horse has come. This is no longer the Spirit moving upon us to subdue our natures; it is we who are riding with Him on the horse! We are riding upon this powerful, beautiful beast well known for its strength and swiftness! What is that strength that we ride upon with our Lord? It is the power of purity! It is His nature inworked in us.

Rev. 19:11, “And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse; and He that sat upon him was called Faithful and True, and in righteousness He doth judge and make war.”

Years ago I was shown that a number of people were riding on that white horse with the Lord. Now He is telling me that the time has come when we may also be called faithful and true, and the power that we have shall be the power of purity—the fact that we desire Him alone to go forth in us in His power. It is the purity of our love toward Him that gives us His strength. (This is quite opposite to what the world sees as power: the power of might).

8. A City Set Upon a Hill: “My remnant people are as a city set upon a hill. The rays of the city shine forth and light the way for the wayfarer who is searching for the light.

“Set My words as frontlets before your eyes (frontispiece—part of the helmet, before the forehead and eyes) and carry them about thy neck. Keep His “now” Words in the forefront of your hearts and minds.

9. An Edict of Surrender: I heard these words in the spirit: “My heart is moved whene’er I think of Jesus. There is a shift in the heavenlies. An edict of surrender has gone forth—that remnant people whom I have prepared for this day now stand before Me, with heads bowed, and hands empty of their own works. These are ready to subdue kingdoms, shut the mouths of lions, and bring to naught all that would exalt itself against Me in this, My Day.”

9. Mary—with Child: The scene of Mary with the babe came before me and I heard these words in my spirit: “You are experiencing the same thing as did Mary—carrying a babe born of flesh and of the divine—as a new species of mankind!”

Although our minds acknowledged that we were born anew when the Spirit of Christ came into us, it is still an awesome thing to have the Lord speak thus to our hearts. I heard Isa. 6:4, “And the posts of the door moved at the voice of Him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.” That’s when Isaiah cried, “Woe is me!” And that is how we feel some days when the Lord meets with us. As the literal temple shook, so do our frail temples shake at His Words and that which faces us in this hour of the Lord’s dealings!

10. Jesus Discarded: It is good for us to see things on earth as God sees them, although it is often very hard to bear. Recently, He showed Elisabeth something that touched us deeply. She saw a dumpster (large, public garbage bin), where people had been throwing their used Christmas trees. Beside the dumpster was a baby lying, wrapped up in a blanket. It was a live baby, and it was very cold. The skin color was such that it could have been of any nation.

She understood that this was how the world’s carnal Christians regard the Christ and the place they have given Him. When the festivities of the celebration are over, they continue on their merry way, running their own lives.

11. I Will Arise and Go Forth: “Yet, there are those who esteem Me as most precious and respond to My words as did Abraham: ‘I will arise and go forth’. They take to the altar that which is dearest and best to them—even self-will—and offer it unto Me saying, ‘Though He slay me, yet will I trust Him.’”

“It is unto these that I have entrusted the bringing-in of My Kingdom, even My reign, in the earth. But it was needful for you to know the reality of those who follow not Me and the place that they have given Me—a place with discarded things. They have no need of Me and know not that they are empty and blind and naked without Me. Yet, I love them and have paid the price of their redemption. They need to see the Word made flesh once again, walking in the earth.”

12. He Is Birthed Within: “My people are warming themselves at a fire that delights the natural man—gifts for each other, food, treats, family in attendance—a comfort indeed for the natural man.

“But My true ones know the reality of My presence. They need no man-made trappings to remind them of My birth! I am present with them always and their hearts are glad always at the gift that I have given them of Myself—that I have been birthed within them and have made of them a new race—a new species of man. This is the New Jerusalem that is born from above, whereas men gather together under the Old Jerusalem banner, not recognizing He Who came down from above to bring them into His place as He came into theirs. Walk with understanding of that which you are and of what I have done in your life!”

13. Another Lesson: When a number of us rebuilt the deck on our home, in obedience to the Lord’s direction, He dropped this word into Elisabeth’s heart: ‘Get used to it!’ In other words, He was saying He would initiate other divine projects to teach us the new ways of the kingdom.

I awoke Saturday morning with the thought that we should drive the 30 miles to Bonners Ferry, Idaho. We go there about once a month to buy groceries. But I didn’t need any groceries, so I couldn’t understand why we should go there. Furthermore, it was snowing outside and we seldom go out on the road when fresh snow is falling. So, I considered all my arguments and dropped the thought.

The morning passed and it was almost mid-afternoon when Bill told us about his burden for our neighbors who are refugees from Sierra Leone in Africa. He felt their outer wear was not warm enough for our climate. I ran to my closet and handed him a jacket that I was no longer wearing. He took it next door and it fit the mother perfectly. She did a little dance for joy.

We could see that the burden was still upon him for the rest of the family, so I timidly admitted that I had felt we would be going to the U.S. today. There are several Thrift Stores there where we could find jackets for the four children. Now I knew the reason for our going! Bill and Elisabeth agreed even though it was snowing and we’d be driving home in the dark—the two things we always avoid!

When we got there, we found that one store had closed up and we couldn’t find the other one, so we went to the smaller one that gives their proceeds to the pet adoption society. By this time they had CLOSED up and would not be open until after Christmas. The door was locked, but I saw the clerks inside. I felt the Lord didn’t send us here for nothing, so I went to the door and they opened it. I told them what we were looking for and they were most kind and helpful. They even served as models for the jackets! Then, they started bringing vests, scarves and knitted caps, saying: “Don’t worry about the cost. Take anything you want. You can just leave a donation for the pets.”

As they were gathering all this, they said, “You have made our day—even our year! We have wanted to send some clothes to Africa and have been thwarted at every turn by customs officials. Now we’re able to help a family from Africa!” They were as happy as we were. One clerk even went so far as to tell me, “I’m sure you are going to go to heaven!” I told her that I planned on it (but, of course, it has nothing to do with my ‘good deeds.’)

We came away, delirious with joy at how the Lord had made a way for us where there was no way. And, we had no problems on account of the fresh snow and driving when it was dark.

The following morning when we were talking about the clothing which would bless our neighbors, I heard the Spirit say: "It's not about the jackets. It's about learning obedience."

THE BRETHERN SHARE

1. Coming Move of the Spirit (Doug Clark):

When Paul said "the invisible things of God are hidden in the visible things around us," I always thought of nature, but the other day I received this word: "What we see happening in the natural is also happening in the Spirit.

"As God pours out His Spirit, we will see a new model birthed. The gas-guzzler-sport-utility type of ministry that depends on fossil fuel (the energy of the flesh, i.e. money and self-promotion) is going to be replaced by a smaller, energy-efficient vehicle. Just as in the natural we are seeing a trend toward hybrid engines that are less dependent on fossil fuel, the same is true of the new anointed ministry that God is raising up at this time.

"In the natural, we see entrepreneurs give birth to new ideas that make many large companies seem like inefficient dinosaurs, so will this movement of the Spirit be. Many large companies (ministries) have become inefficient and their size makes it difficult to adjust to changing markets (flow of the Spirit), whereas, the smaller companies (new ministries that will be birthed) are more often visionaries who can see and hear what the market (Holy Spirit) is saying and adjust very quickly. Many large companies fail to see the change in the market because the change itself threatens their very existence. The same is true of many large ministries—once a shining light, they will seem out of touch and out of date with what God is doing, only they don't know it.

"Many of these ministries have become like Enron. They have tried to convince their stockholders (God's people) that they are profitable (rich in the Spirit) when the reality is they are bankrupt and they do not have the anointing of God's Spirit.

"Not all large ministries have become spiritually corrupt. Many have been faithful to what God has called them and He has blessed the works of their hands, however, the efficiency of God's Spirit in what He is about to do will make many large ministries seem obsolete. There is a new ministry paradigm breaking forth in the earth. Listen and be ready. Because of consumer mistrust, new emphasis is placed on network marketing and referral-based marketing. Look for the same pattern in the Spirit as God begins to cross paths and connect members of His body."

2. Cal Cobb's Letter: I am blessed beyond measure with the latest Gospel of the Kingdom newsletter!! The prophetic word coming forth shot through to my heart immediately. I received a word a couple months back where God told me during a time of prayer and study that a great conflagration was going to take place in America "before the trees turned their leaves." This is happening in California as I write with one of the most catastrophic wildfires in California history. It is but the beginning of sorrow

A few years ago I received a vision where I was leaving the booth of required preparation and rest and beginning the walk up the hill to the Feast of Tabernacles (Booths or Sukkot). I looked around and I was alone. Why? God told me that this is a journey I must make alone in secret as it were, that He had done an individual work unrecognized by the world and most of Christendom but that I would join others when I reached the ingathering. The Lord has prepared His own harvest of first fruits in His chosen ones as they are fully prepared to enter into the harvest of the Lord "where one of His precious plants is ready to be harvested and made to be bread for the hungry." (Page 5 of your letter). We are entering the kingdom age! My heart is soaring. I sense yours is as well. I know you are very busy but thank you, Elaine, for your steadfastness in the Lord. He is rewarding you with His light and life within beyond measure. What a day we live in!! The Spirit breathed this song into my spirit a while back:

The hand of man shall not decree
the Spirit Song inspiring me.
No chains, binds or fetters fast,
can stay me from God's chosen fast.
Lift up, lift up on winged dove,
the Spirit Song of His sweet love.
Free to touch the Father's ear,
who's giv'n me eyes to see and ears to hear.
The ministration of His word,
A Spirit Song to those who've heard,
the longing call of Father's heart,
Come up hither, ne'er to part.

3. Some New Writings: 1) As many of you know, Andrew Jukes wrote in the late 1800's and his works are highly esteemed. He is hailed as the greatest authority on the Book of Genesis. *I have put together nine pages of his writing called Words of Reconciliation. In it he shares how he was led “to receive the hope of the final salvation, not of the elect only, but of all men. I will recount the steps by which I have been brought to believe that all shall at length be saved, and that where sin hath abounded, grace shall yet much more abound through Jesus Christ our Lord.”

2) Steve Wright has sent us a writing called Examining the Writings of Des Walter. This is not a personal attack, but a result of much prayer and study of the scriptures which he felt he should share with those who feel they should accept any new teaching that comes along. I felt it had a lot of merit and that anyone would profit from reading it. Ask me for a paper copy, or an email copy, or send to Steve at stevewright3235@msn.com.

3) We are also putting together a writing called Points in Prayer by Monty Williamson. He has been taught many lessons in intercession and has been exercised in this ministry for a number of years. If you wish to know more about intercession, just ask for this writing. I’m delighted that he is willing to share this with the Body.

4) Free Booklet: Jim Meletiou is offering a booklet on Samuel Morris, an astonishing account of an African teenager who, after suffering unimaginable torture, escaped and saw miracle after miracle happen to him. Write or Email: Jim Meletiou, 4912 Lancer Dr., Knoxville, TN 37921-3014 Email = JimMeletiou@BellSouth.net.

5) Walking With the Speaking God: I’ve had a lot of good feedback from those who have read our new book. Please feel free to ask for it.

4. Ted Martin: While reading T. Austin Sparks’ booklet, Power with God, I read this fabulous paragraph in which he summed up God’s plan and purpose. “God must eventually be vindicated in creation by glorifying humanity. When God undertook to create man, He undertook all the responsibility and all the liability of creating man, and it was a tremendous liability. You get down into the depths with Job and sometimes you will ask ultimate questions. ‘You created me; I am Your responsibility. I lay the responsibility at Your door.’ God says, ‘I accept that, and when I undertook responsibility for creating man, I did so with the unalterable determination to have man glorified at the last; a glorified humanity is the only thing that will vindicate Me.’ Satan has done everything in his power to defeat God in that intention of a glorified humanity. The whole battle in the unseen has to do with that, and the very work of Satan is being sovereignly used by God toward that end. Job’s last state is only, of course, a figure, a suggestion, of man raised from the dead and exalted to a very high position and filled with divine fullness—all through grace; all through the mercy of God acting sovereignly. That is the end in view.”

5. Louise Mize: Years ago the Lord awakened me and spoke these words: “You are pregnant. It shall be a son. It is by the Holy Ghost. You will have this son when you are 42.” I was 41 at the time. This was in May/June and my birthday was in December. We already had a daughter and had so very much wanted a son, but at 41 it seemed unlikely! A few weeks later a booklet called The 42nd Generation came in the mail. What a revelation! I jumped out of bed and called my friend and asked her to pray, saying, “I think I’m pregnant!” She felt sorry for me. But, how I have leaned on that 42nd generation!

In those days we were in church and had many positions. Things were falling apart (in the pulpit area) and we prayed to leave. God said, “Hush your mouthy. I have led you here.” Things got worse! “Why, Lord, do you want us in this place?” I cried. We were there 26 years before being released. One day I came home from church, and in despair, lay down across the bed. I dreaded the thought of having to go back again at 6 p.m. I wanted to throw up!

I never fell asleep or saw a vision, but suddenly I was being shown the stages of a butterfly and I was in the cocoon stage. I was aware that I was wound around and around. It was so tight I felt I’d smother to death. I was aware the Lord was letting me feel what the butterfly feels in that stage. It was totally dark. I could not see. I could hardly breathe from my toes to my nose. The worst part was I did not know when this would end. I lay there until about 5:30. Then I heard a crackling sound. It was at the end where my nose and mouth were tightly pushed against the sound. It kept making this crackling noise and I realized it was opening up. When it was open enough—without any thought of my own, my whole body slid out (as if oiled). Immediately, my wings, which were folded against my body, unfolded and I flew straight into the blue heavens—free, oh, so free! I was a beautiful blue butterfly soaring up!

At this point, I knew I must dress for church. To my surprise, the pastor opened the service with a prophecy: “For even as the butterfly doth come out of its cocoon...” I never heard the rest of it, for I was soaring in my own heaven!

6. Wanda McCaslin: In regard to what Betty Houk said, “We become the mercy seat to creation”, the Lord has been showing me the importance of forgiveness both to the living and those on the other side. We can help or hinder their transformation by our forgiveness or lack of it.

7. Iris Hunter: “I want you to know that I thoroughly enjoyed your latest book “Walking with the Speaking God.” I didn’t want to put it down! So beautifully written and such good meat—no wonder my friend told me it was delicious! I agree!

“It certainly is an exciting era, with God intent on displaying His nature through us. I’ve always known that I should ‘pray for my enemies’, but lately He has me loving some folks who are hurting us. After a few months, I was able to demonstrate His love, and it just melted them! He loves us so much!

“I am still tucked away (a hidden one), but occasionally am prompted to do something unusual for Him, and I just marvel at His wisdom. I’m forever asking for more of His wisdom!

8. Pat Savas: A brother recently asked me what I thought today’s “church” looks like. I believe the true ecclesia comprises mostly humble, hidden ones, out of the box, outside the camp; each has a passion for God and an intimate knowledge of Him. The lights of their everyday lives are burning brightly in this dark world. When they break a morsel, you know they have been eating of Life.”

9. Jamie & Pamela Russell: The church as a whole has been taught that only Christ is first fruits, but I believe they are a company of Christians who have overcome by the power of Jesus. I Cor. 15:23 says, “...every man in his own order: Christ the first fruits; afterward they that are Christ’s at His coming. These are the sons of God for whom the whole creation is waiting for their manifestation. This means they have achieved the redemption of their bodies (Romans 8:19).

My sister-in-law saw a vision in the early 50’s showing cities in America blown up and on fire, carnage everywhere. She walked among them and as her shadow fell across their bodies, they revived and got to their feet and helped others. She remembered a wounded Russian soldier among the fallen and as her shadow fell on him, he too got up and started helping.

Afterward, my wife Pamela started singing in the spirit a song she had never heard before. It was transforming—like it came from heaven. It ended with: “The bride is asleep, but the heart is awake and ye are the heart of the bride.”

After praying about the first fruits and what it truly meant, I walked out into my back yard and stood under a very large fig tree. I looked up while still contemplating the subject and noticed the complete tree was covered with very small green figs the size of a grape. I reached above my head and lifted a leaf, and to my amazement, hanging above me was a large ripe purple fig. I was transfixed. I thought to myself, “My God, what a sign!” After a while I searched the tree over and couldn’t find another. I took the fig into the house and showed my wife. We cut it in half and ate it. It was sugar ripe. I said to Pamela, “God couldn’t have told us any plainer if He had hit us over the head. Now, if the second coming is very close, and we think it is, then the manifestation of the sons is upon us.” I wanted to share this with you after reading about the Holy Spirit telling you of the changes that are going to take place in your body. Notice what manifestation the creature is waiting for—not Jesus, but the sons that will be led by Jesus! I believe they will be assisting the church while she is going through the tribulation.

10. Inez Bouton: In Oct. of /06, I had this nighttime experience. My physical body was actually joined to His body. I had very strange feelings as I was actually fitted to fit this new body. We’ve known ourselves as containers. Now we’re actually joined! This is the joining of earth and heaven in /07. When these experiences happen, it’s not just for me, but for the whole body, even though it’s individual.

11. Kitty Pace: Jackie Caporaso wrote: “There are some among us today who will overcome death and the grave.” He is giving some answers as to how this is to be accomplished and of course, the first is to believe. Then there are these little foxes that have to go. If we are of a complaining or fearful nature, as many of the children of Israel were, we cannot go in either. The Lord once spoke to me, “Take hold on eternal life.” I didn’t know how to do it, and the only way I knew was to take hold of the One who is eternal life. I have stumbled along but I know that the only life is in Him and without Him there is no life!
