Once again it is time to share from the brethren throughout this entire issue. And we would like to publicly thank all those who labor with us, and those who stand behind us with their gifts, making it possible to continue sending the Gospel of the Kingdom around the world wherever His remnant is hidden. Elaine will share first. Bill and Elaine

FROM MY PRAYER TIMES Elaine

1—No Kingdom: The question came to my mind as to what happened to evil men when they died and passed over to the other side. I heard, “They have no dominion (kingdom) or authority of their own. I take away their personal kingdom and subject them to Mine.”

2—Partaking of the Plagues: “It shall be with My people as it was with ancient Israel in the time of Moses. When I sent the plagues upon Egypt, they suffered through some of them until I made a difference. Again, I shall surely make a difference between those of Egypt and those of Zion, but it shall not be all at once. It shall be in My appointed time, so do not lose hope when trials beset thee as they do those in the world. Always bear in mind that I am your Deliverer, and I know best when and how to deliver. Put your trust in Me, for whatever happens, you will always be Mine and will remain in My loving Hands for My good purposes.”

3—The Debt of Sin: I heard these words from an old hymn: “The debt of sin I owe...” Then the Spirit said: “The debt of mankind is reckoned in dollars and cents and the nations are trying fervently to pay the debt in coinage of money. Yet, it is a debt that can only be paid by the Spirit of the Living God—by Jesus, Who paid the price of every man’s debt upon the cross.

“Man’s silver and gold shall not deliver him from his massive debt, for it is a debt of sin owed to his Maker and only He can relieve him from that debt and make him free indeed. The answer to the world’s woes will not be found in any currency and they must come to realize that fact. It is a debt of sin that mankind owes to His Maker and only He can resolve it and set all mankind free. This is a great trial to the whole world, and in it I shall be glorified. The god of Mammon has fallen on its face as did Dagon, god of the Philistines.”

3—The Day of the Lord: “For the Day of the Lord has come! Did I not say it would come as a thief in the night? ‘For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night.’ I Thess. 5:2; ‘But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up.’ II Peter 3:10.

“Has not unregenerate man whose lust is for money and power felt that there would be no day of reckoning with his god, for he thinks his god is such an one as he; one that can be subdued by the power of might.

“The earth has been robbed and spoiled in ways that even now are coming to light. It is My earth and all the inhabitants are Mine. I have purchased them with My Own life’s Blood. They are all mine, even though they own Me not.

“This is a dark day that has come upon My earth, but I am not taken unawares, for I have planned for this day to come. I have made preparations for this day and My preparations are all in order.

“In Noah’s day, My preparation for the judgment of the earth consisted of one man and his family. Through their obedience, I cleansed the earth of its wicked abominations.

“Through one man, Moses, I led a multitude of people out of bondage into freedom, though they had never known freedom.

“Would I now fail to have saviours in place at the end of this age? This time, there is not just one man, but a Body who walk as one with Me and with each other. I call them My Son for they have received My training for rulership and have humbled themselves under My mighty Hand until they feel, like Moses, that they are not worthy to perform that great task that I have committed unto them.

“They are weak and helpless and lowly in the eyes of the world, but oh, they love and honor Me above all. In these I am able to do all of My good pleasure. And, My good pleasure is to bring forth righteousness in the heart of all men and I shall never cease dealing with My creation until righteousness flows from them like a river. Then shall I be glorified and My heart be satisfied, when My creation comes into My image and likeness! So be it!”

THE BRETHREN SHARE

1—Keith and Pam Bieber: I am almost finished reading “My Word Made Flesh” and am finding it to be a humbling and soul-searching experience. We are not attending any church right now so these books are really filling an empty place in my heart. I am sending you two CDs of contemporary music that I have made over the last few years. I am offering the CDs free to whoever would like them. I will send them out if they email me at: kdbieber@gmail.com

2—Clara Elliott: The other day I woke up with this thought: “Christ is our husband” (2 Cor. 11:12). The next thought was I Cor. 14:35, how wives are to ask their husbands at home if they should be in need of answers. The third thought was, “Ask what?” James 1:5 came to mind, “If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him.”

The next question was: “And how?” The “how” is found in John 4:26, “But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.”

It is wonderful to know if we are hearing and being taught by our Husband who is the way, the truth and the life. We cannot go astray for He who resides within will never leave us nor forsake us, for we live and move and have our being in Him. For it is no longer I that liveth, but Christ that liveth in me. The hope of glory, even Christ, resides within and is and shall ever be faithful and true, a Husband who provides for His own household—whose household we are if we hold fast our confidence.

Let us not only have Christ in us but let us be found in Him. Even as a natural relationship becomes one, let us be one with Him and lose our name and take His name. Let us truly be espoused unto Him, even Christ our Husband. (Col. 1:27, Phil. 3:9). Let us be ever on watch and enquire in His temple using Joshua chapter 9 as our example. Don’t take things at face value—enquire, ask of Him who resides within.

3—Cal Cobb: The message about the Poured Out Vessels is what God has been speaking to me for the past year. The broken ones release the vibrant fragrance of “spikenard.” We anoint the Christ in us...the fragrance lifts. The Spirit spoke to me to “see the face of Christ”—that this will be the world’s view of Him through us. Also, He said that my (our) training days are coming to a close as His resurrection power is being released in and through us. He is “setting us in the field.” (The field is the world!)

He took me through Joel 2 and showed me that this is the order of things for our country. The remnant shall be delivered in their obedience (last verse) so that they, in turn, deliver this country from its forward ways. Read the chronology of Joel 2 and you will see the path to deliverance! God showed me this.

“Your old men shall dream dreams.” (also Joel 2:28). God spoke through me in a dream: “You are the righteousness of God in Christ.” I said, “Yes, I am.” This whole thing of righteousness is in Christ in us! We have no righteousness...any we think we have is pure filth. I was placed before a large assembly (this happened to me years ago as well). The Spirit began speaking through me to particular persons, looking them in the eye and asking, “Do you know who you are?”

“You are God’s righteousness! In His Son, Christ Jesus!” Then, on to the next. As my voice lifted and echoed over the crowd, the anointing was so strong I lifted off my feet and found myself above the assembled people. The Spirit spoke stridently and with great urgency. The crowd sat stunned at first, then one after the other began to weep with joy and repentance.

The Holy Spirit continued to speak about the holiness of God as a process we walk as into Him and His fire transforms us until we have passed into Him...one. There was much more and twice I found myself awakening, sitting up in bed with my hands raised toward heaven. I drifted back into the dream. The Spirit was so strong I felt I would burst with praise and adoration of the Father! The fire of His Love consumed me! We are to love all men. All! The joy that flooded my spirit was like no other joy—I hardly have words to tell you of it. He has shown me that there is no life until we go by way of the Cross in everything in our lives and pass on into true resurrection life. The Cross and the Blood are so important. The Holy Spirit kept saying to eat of Him and drink of Him. Then the words came: “Drink! Drink! Drink!” and kept speaking it again and again: “In Me is Life. Eat and drink! I am the Way, the Truth and the Life.”

4—Katherine Price: As our journey into the Heart of God takes us through labyrinthian paths it is encouraging to learn of other sojourners with similar experiences. Sometimes Father’s Plan for us takes us through seasons of solitude and separation and we are denied the refreshment of companionship with the brethren. I appreciate your quotes from your correspondents.

It also encourages me to hear reports of a similar revelation from our Father being echoed in widely-separated believers. It truly is One Father, One Spirit, One Lord, One Life.

5—Michele Sperber: I thought I’d share some recent visions. (1) I saw three rivers running parallel (the world, the religious and the elect). The elect’s river came to a waterfall. They were behind it in a rock cave.

(2) The next vision was of the huge Hand of God under the earth, turning up the fire like you would turn on the fire of a gas fireplace with it coming up upon the earth. He said it was for His 24 carat ones.

(3) The next was of the night. Stars began coming out, one by one. He said it was time to shine! Today I heard the words: “Glory to the stars in heaven: peace on earth, good will toward man!” Truly, good will and peace bring forth that which mankind is waiting for: God’s glory revealed in us...pointing the way for them. I hope you are well and shining bright.

6—Jerry Hihath: I was having trouble sleeping and the Lord spoke, “I am the Alpha Man: I am the Omega Man.” I have read where He is the first and last, the Beginning and the End and He is All in All. However, this was different. He was telling me that He was the beginning of the era of man’s rule on earth as of a fleshly mind and also He has already ended this rule of man. The rule of man through money, psychological manipulation and intimidation has been called into judgment, both in the religious world and in the world of man and his endeavours. The spirits behind these establishments are in direct conflict with the mind of God and consequently those who are His sons because they walk in the spirit.

The other elements of this short conversation was the inevitability of the advent of the kingdom of God. No matter how small in number or how weak in stature we have become through His trying of our faithfulness, we are on the winning side! Every knee shall bow, every tongue confess that He is Lord. As Christ was the light at the beginning and He was the Word spoken at the beginning, He will also be the light at the end of all things and the Word will be in all of us as one body and of one mind being led by the Head.

The other thing God spoke to me was, “The sheep are asleep.” The parable of the ten virgins came to mind how all slept until the cry was made that the bridegroom cometh! It was also quickened to me about how the disciples slept in the Garden of Gethsemane before the crucifixion. It is now time to make sure that we are awake in the spirit. Let us turn the battle to the gate (the entering in). Let us walk in the spirit so we fulfill not the lusts of the flesh. Let each of us behold the author and finisher of our salvation that we may be whole and complete within Him. And, not less importantly, bonded in love with each other.

“Awake! Awake! Put on thy strength, O Zion, put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city:....Shake thyself from the dust; Arise, and sit down...” Isa. 52:1-2. Surely, God is good to all of His people and as He cries awake, awake, we will all do so because spirit talks to spirit.

7—Damaris Faulkner: “In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God...All things were made through Him, and without Him nothing was made that was made...The Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory.” John 1:1,3,14. This past year while I was ministering in Bangalore, India, Jesus imparted to me the essence of these scriptures. He is the Creator of the world and yet He humbled Himself to become one of us so that He might reveal the Father to us in a way that we could understand. The purpose: The Word became flesh so that flesh

(we) may become Word and re-present Him to our world.

My heart rejoices as I am reading that the time of Tabernacles is in the now. I have rejected the notion of numbers of “come out” people who believe that on some “magic day” we will suddenly all be changed and become the glorified, manifested sons of God. I perceive that these people have received much intellectual truth and revelation and seem content to know about these truths without them being worked out in their lives on a daily basis. This is dangerous. These precious truths need to be transplanted from head knowledge into our hearts where we can experience the essence of Kingdom truth. This can’t happen all at once, but step by step.

I heard the Lord say to me some time ago, “Arise and shine for thy light is come and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.” I believed the word and since then I am seeing an increasing manifestation of the reality of his life flowing in and through me to the people He brings into my life. I am learning that His ever-present life is being manifested to all kinds of people in a way that they understand. His love is drawing them like a magnet and is creating change in them whether they understand it or not.

I believe that we will see astonishing things as we “follow the Lamb wherever He goes.” I am beginning to understand how much enjoyment He is having with us now as we are becoming channels through which He can flow. He loves expressing Himself through our particular individual uniqueness. He is expressing the essence of His life through our personality in a way that others can understand. I truly enjoy experiencing this taking place realizing that, “It is not I that liveth, but Christ who now lives in me.” Is not this the essence of His Kingdom?

8—Roselle Zorzetto: I awakened from a deep sleep and heard in the Spirit:

*“And there was silence
And the heavens opened
And declared My Word.*

A Living Word.

A Word of Life.

A Word from deep within uttered without a sound, but seen and lived by the Christ within.

Behold the Lamb.

Behold, for the Day Is, and all that have waited in silence will know as they are known.

In the midst of the ragings on the outside, a Peace, a holy Hush, for the Master has and is in preparation to bring forth of Himself.

Behold the Lamb.

Behold the Lamb.

Behold the Lamb!

9—James Meletiou: Most of the readers of this newsletter recognize the floodtide of deception that permeates almost the whole church world. The heavenly Father burdened me to expose much of this deception. For a free copy of this 55-page booklet, write me at: Mr. James, 4912 Lancer Drive, Knoxville, TN 37921-3014 or email: James1937@BellSouth.net.

10—Bill Cook: “Prete moi ta plume pour ecrire un mot.” (“I take up my pen to write a few words”) though I hardly know where to start, since it’s been some time since I last wrote to you.

I was pondering the other day of our inheritance in Christ and of its being divided unto us. And yet, there is no such thing as having the inheritance divided when the supply is limitless. For instance, when a man owns a gold mine and he is dividing the gold amongst a family of two or three, he doesn’t exactly divide all; rather, he gives each one whatever they need and hence are able to possess and use it to advantage.

Now, consider Christ giving us our inheritance; we can hardly say He is dividing it, for the supply is the whole world and more besides. I will deal with the “more besides.”

Jesus is our God and often we think of Him as our elder brother. Why so? Because He has already conquered this world with its pitfalls galore including its billion-dollar buy-outs and sell-outs, so He has already cut a swath through man’s up-risings and down-sittings so that we can have confidence through the present world upset.

Many think that to “make heaven” is to win their inheritance. That is just like receiving a speck of gold dust from your Father instead of the contents of the gold mine. Instead, it’s having your name on the title deed of the mine!

Jesus, our Saviour, not only won our salvation at Calvary, but by His death and resurrection, He won us a life! A life filled with His Spirit—a daily life filled wherein we could walk with Him and talk with Him 24/7—365 days a year! May you be freshly aware of the inheritance of this gold of His divine nature in this new year.

11—Roland Pletts: (I feel to remind you of the free book I told you about in the last issue called The Shekinah Glory of Christ at His Coming by Roland Pletts. E.C.) He says, “In 1994 the Lord opened my spirit to receive spiritual understanding as to how He will return and establish His Kingdom on earth. It did not come from my own knowledge but from His Spirit. The insight I received is not how popular books teach that He will come. I now know He has also shown many others the same thing. I can say with the apostle Paul, “For I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ.” (Gal. 1:12).

“After this, I carefully studied the scriptures and concluded that what was shown is more correct than any other teaching I had considered. God began to show me things that I had never seen before. The Lord’s Spirit disclosed to me that when the Lord Jesus Christ returns to earth, He will simply step out of the invisible realm and appear to believers wherever they may be. They may be in their homes, or in a place of prayer, or worshipping together. He will come to each individual believer or group of believers who are looking for His return. He will appear in His glorified body and be real and tangible to all who love Him. He will be visible, and function in a real body in the same way He did during the forty days after His resurrection. When He comes, He will establish God’s Kingdom in the world and will empower His people to rule with Him.” To order this book:

12—Bill Britton: A pioneer of the kingdom message, Bill Britton wrote one of the best booklets on the rapture that I have read. A number of new readers have asked me about this subject recently, so I am making this booklet available free of charge. Ask us for “The Rapture of the Church—What is It?”

14—Malcolm Smith: “Stand still and see the salvation of God.” I’ve stood, at points in my life, where my world was falling apart—financially, and in terms of those I loved. I had thought I would retire in Canada. Unknown to us, we found out suddenly that we were there illegally. On top of all that, my wife had gone down to San Antonio, Texas and after her check-up, the doctor said: “You have three days to live. You have the heart of an 80-year-old!”

Here I am, penniless in Canada. Our last dime was spent for her to go to Texas to see her mother. We didn’t even have enough money for food and my wife is in Texas with three days to live and we are illegally in Canada.

A sense of dread and dark despair and pictures of hopelessness came over me. The darkness rolled over me as an ocean. Who does a pastor talk to when he is in despair and wonders if there is a God anymore? Where does he turn?

I walked away from that phone call from my wife, and like a robot, got into my car. I experienced a darkness of spirit in my mind, and a meltdown of my emotions. I just drove toward my office and along the way I pulled over to the side of the road and I shouted. (I had to shout because my mind was in chaos). “Against all logic, against every feeling I have in my body, against all common sense, against everything that I see, and everything that I hear; I now choose to declare that You love us and You are even now fulfilling Your love purpose in the midst of this chaos; that You are unlimitedly and unendingly for us and with us. I just dump this whole mess into Your Hands!”

I had not a feeling in my body or brain or spirit when I said that, and after I said it, I felt as dead as before I said it. I just drove off.

That day I understood what faith means: I believed God by choice. I closed the door to thoughts of the past and refused to flail myself for coming to Canada. I closed the door to doubts: “What kind of a God would allow your wife to get such heart problems? You have to blame somebody, so you might as well blame God!” Your imagination projects itself, “She’s going to die there without me!” There were places of fantasy where I could go in my mind, but by God’s grace, this is what I did: I stood still! (which means to be present to God Who is present to you!)

I look back on that moment as a defining moment of my life. Everything changed after that! We saw the salvation of God! She didn't die. She very much lived because the Lord gave her a "Rhema" word, "...the years of thy life shall be many" and she accepted it and was healed.

And suddenly, persons started coming to the door with gifts so that I could go to join her in Texas. The lesson was clear that I could choose to believe in God's goodness and loving watch-care, rather than to entertain evil imaginations about the past or the future. I chose to believe His Love even though my feelings were like jelly. I chose to believe that God is Who He says He is and I must stand still and see the salvation He will accomplish for me!

(Ask the Lord to write this word upon the tables of your heart. You might need it sometime!)

15—Zac Poonen: People have been possessed by demons from the beginning of human history. Jesus wanted His disciples to proclaim the dual good news that people could be delivered from the guilt of their sins as well as from demons.

One of my first encounters with an evil spirit was when I was speaking to students at a Bible College. I had just concluded my message and had asked everyone to bow in prayer. A student got up and started dancing in the aisle. I realized it was a demon trying to distract the students from responding to the message. I didn't want to create a distraction so I whispered under my breath, "In Jesus' Name, sit down." The young man, about 40 feet away, sat down. Months later I had a letter from him telling me that he had been possessed by a demon while in a temple some years earlier. Later, he became a Christian. He said he was the one told to sit down! The demon had heard my words and obeyed! I found that demons have very good hearing and we don't need to shout at them.

Another time, a sister came for prayer and I asked her to receive Jesus and to tell Satan, "I don't belong to you now. Jesus defeated you on the cross." (I ask all who want to be saved to say this). Her face contorted and she looked at me fiercely as her voice changed and she said, "I was not defeated on the cross."

I told the demon, "You are a liar. You were defeated on the cross. Get out of her in Jesus' Name." It left immediately. I knew it was so, for when I asked the lady a second time to say the same words, she said them without hesitation. I found that demons do not like to be reminded that Jesus defeated them on the cross.

16—Maxine Hedlund: The Lord has taught me what this word means: "Stormy wind fulfilling his word." When thrown around in circumstances too dark to see our way, in the midst of our turmoil, He plants His way in our lives. His winds provide what earthly parents could not—or have not, provided. His love keeps us from floating adrift, oblivious to the destruction ahead. His winds catch us up in a storm so He can detach us from the lowered life. God's plan is that our magnified need will compel us to seek His face and hear His voice.

Just as Jesus awakened His disciples three times in the Garden of Gethsemane, God has designated three periods of time through which He ordained to work out Adam's transgression and awaken His children to return them to the spiritual realm from whence they came.

The first period was the age of the law. This age dealt with the outer sins of the flesh. God found His children asleep in fleshly ways during the first watch.

The second period was the age of grace. Repentance granted pardon from sin, and grace was offered in place of judgment from the law. Once received, God's approval came through grace, rather than works as the law demanded. The law judged man for what he did, while grace judges man for what he is! Under grace it is not the outward sins (of the fallen nature) that condemn him, but the nature itself! This age deals with the fallen soul! He found His children asleep in the carnal—"good life"—during this second watch.

The third period is the age of the kingdom. The important thing in this age is what one can become! This age deals with the realm of the spirit. While fleshly sins and the carnal nature kept God's children fast asleep in the first two ages, typed by the first two times Jesus found His disciples asleep, to enter the kingdom age one must turn from the life of dust that fed the serpent and rise into the life of the spirit.

In this third watch we must awaken! The final hour is upon us! If we do not awaken in this watch, the transitional time meant to bring us into a life of the spirit, we will sleep on and take our rest in physical death through the kingdom age. It is as when Jesus told His disciples the third time: "Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand,..."

From time to time God personally warns us by sending stormy winds on our worthless pursuits, either blowing them away or entangling them so badly we are unable to untangle them. In our inability to untangle our mess, we seek His purposes for our lives. God's storms redirect to place us on the path that leads into kingdom life. High winds are the vehicle by which God transports man from his lowered state into the final age that sustains life at a higher frequency than prior ages.

17. Dr. Jack Jacobsen: A person involved in a mega church said that because of the current economy, 90 members of the staff had to be laid off. David Wilkerson in the 70's wrote a book, "The Vision" stating that when there would be a fall in the economy, many pastors who lead their churches into large building programs would cry out for God's help when they had financial problems. Thus, there would be a move to "Home churches." One author writes of a paradigm shift where there will be a departure from the large churches into small home groups where they can live 24/7, a faith ministry to interact with fellow believers.

18—David Wilkerson: Since we quoted from David Wilkerson in the last issue, some have asked us where we found this information. David wrote a message called "The Most Important Issue of This Hour" in June 2/08. It may be found on the Web: worldchallenge.org. He speaks of writing, ten years ago, a book called "America's Last Call: On the Brink of a Financial Holocaust." In it, he states many of the things that we shared in the last issue.

He warns that the real issue is not economic collapse. It isn't even about who presides over the nation. Rather, it is all about enduring faith. This one issue has to be foremost in the minds of all who claim to serve Jesus. Do you have an abiding trust in the Lord that will hold up when the world descends into chaos? Or will you waver in times of affliction? When that hour comes, will your love for the Lord endure? Or will it grow cold, as Jesus predicted would happen to so many believers?

These are questions Jesus put to all who would choose to follow him. Christ asked, "When the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?" (Luke 18:8)

19—The Unadulterated Moving of the Spirit of God (from Little Flock Message-Richard and Mary Coder): The unadulterated moving of the Spirit of Father God is here and now. Father God does not need religious organizations or a particular movement to lead it. However, His saints will be led by His Spirit to repeatedly and earnestly call upon Him to move in them afresh. This fresh moving of the Spirit doesn't need to be charged by emotionalism. It won't be seen on TV and it doesn't need to be proclaimed through a microphone. It is proclaimed by the mind of the Spirit in those who are reaching for Him and His will for their lives. It doesn't need a PR program to perpetuate it. There is no pleading for money because the One who owns the universes is well able to provide for it. Therefore it cannot be manipulated by mankind.

The unadulterated moving of the Spirit begins in the heart of Almighty God who is continually renewing, shaping, healing and making whole, His overcoming saints. They rarely are gathered with one another for any great length of time but they quickly recognize one another by the spirit.

By the internal light of the very Life of God that shines forth and exposes the darkness, internal and sometimes external turmoil is the first reaction to His moving by His Spirit. Finally, deep repentance and true humility take place within. His saints, who are continually refreshed by the moving of His Spirit, are sent by Him, but are received by only a few, loving but despised, merciful but often treated unmercifully; strong through brokenness, powerful in weakness, and without gender.

The unadulterated moving of the Spirit of God can't be started by human decision nor can it be controlled by humans. It takes place in one at a time as each one intensely seeks the Lord and is then ushered into the fullness of Him. There are three stages of progressively entering this Life. First, is the conception of the trumpet call of separation unto Him. Secondly, is the entering into at-one-ment with the sufferings of Christ, which is more than the common sufferings of being in a physical body and dealing with earthly matters. Thirdly, is the catching up of the glorified saints to the throne where the Manchild Company experiences the Life of the Spirit of the Word being engraved in their spirit by God. These are they who are the called and chosen and will be found faithful. These are they who are daily dying to self-serving and are dead but yet are alive now and forever more.
